

Virtual Desktops

Easy and secure access to the information you need to conduct business... anywhere!

A Proven Technology

InsynQ has developed an information technology model that delivers an efficient computing network with the technical expertise to support it. We call it our Virtual Desktop.

By using the Internet as an inexpensive wide area network, companies and organizations of all sizes can have access to each other and the information they need to conduct business. Your staff can be at home or halfway across the globe and still connect to your network and access everything!

Businesses and organizations need technology to survive. But technology doesn't need to be complicated or expensive. With Virtual Desktops, you can have the best of both worlds—a proven solution for as little as $2.83 per day per user.

Virtual Desktops are easy to use and affordable, requiring no big initial investment. Your service can be installed in a fraction of the time that a traditional network takes, without all the mystery. If you already have Internet access in your business... then you're 95 percent installed!

How It Can Work for You

Virtual Desktop service is similar to your existing system. After logging in via any web browser, company email is accessed, software is launched, documents are created, and information gets stored. The difference is you don't rely on your local PC for these processes. You're connected to a sophisticated series of high-speed commercial servers located in a data center. These machines are far more powerful than what traditional users have. They are maintained by engineers who ensure they are up to date and secure. Consequently, there is no need to regularly upgrade your computers. You can use old computers and leverage existing assets. In addition, your data is protected against virus attacks and backed up daily to ensure it's always safe and available.
